Safe Water, Healthy Lives

by

Dr Canisius Kanangire

Dear Friends,

As you may know, the World Water Day is celebrated worldwide on 22 March; a day to focus our attention on the issues of clean and safe water as a fundamental right of everyone, everywhere. It is also an opportunity to reassess the status of water availability, water security for all purposes and renew our commitment to ensure water resources are managed properly and developed sustainably.

Needless to emphasize the role of water in sustaining life on earth. Water is the connecting thread of life. Water is life.

This year, we celebrate the World Water Day under an unprecedented threat to many sectors of our daily lives and economies: the Coronavirus pandemic. Currently the world has no cure. Key among protection measures and means to slow down or stop the spread of the virus is Handwashing with soap.